

Fall Freeze Protection

Freezing fall temperatures can devastate immature crops, destroying previously healthy yields. Reduce losses from cold weather damage with WeatherBill Fall Freeze Protection.

An early freeze can cause damage if it hits before crops reach maturity. If crops are delayed in their growth cycles, even freezes that occur later in the season can cause significant yield loss. A hard freeze also brings increased drying costs which are uncovered by Federal Crop Insurance.

WeatherBill Fall Freeze Protection allows you to protect your top-end profits from freeze-related losses. You specify the dates of risk, and the temperature below which your crop will be damaged. You choose how many acres you want to protect and how much you want to get paid per acre.

Fall Freeze Protection can be purchased as little as four days before the start of the risk period, allowing you to buy coverage late in the season as harvest approaches. There is no claims process or proof-of-loss required. Payout is automatic if freeze comes early, compensating you immediately.
